

Amazon Music launches Maestro, a new AI playlist generator—here's your first look at the beta

Maestro is now available on all Amazon Music tiers in beta to a subset of U.S. customers on iOS and Android.

Meet Maestro | Amazon Music

Written by Amazon Staff

Last updated: April 16, 2024

2 min read

Amazon Music

Artificial Intelligence

Conversational AI

Today, Amazon Music announces a new feature that uses AI technology to make it easier and way more fun to build playlists you want, when you want. Meet Maestro: An AI playlist generator that helps you create any playlist you can think of—plus all the ones you can't. This feature is rolling out in beta to a small number of U.S. customers on all tiers of Amazon Music.

← 01 / 02 →

To get started, all you need is a prompt idea—you can go for something short (or long), use emojis, emotions, activities, sounds, or choose from one of the suggested prompts. Feel like listening to songs that sound like 🤖? Maestro's got you. Within seconds, you'll be able to admire your use of emojis to evoke the perfect songs, and get a unique-to-you playlist that brings a selection of electronic and robot-like tracks to life. All that's left to do is listen to what you created, save it, share it with friends to listen, and they can create their own to share back.

Here are some Maestro prompts we're loving right now:

- 🎮 and eating 🍕
- Make my 🧠 a genius
- Myspace era hip-hop
- 🎮 🌵 🤖
- Music my grandparents made out to
- 🎤 🎧 🎶
- I tracked my friends and they're all hanging out without me

How to watch this year's Stagecoach Festival live on Prime Video and Twitch

Stream the Stagecoach Festival exclusively on Prime Video or the Amazon Music channel on Twitch.

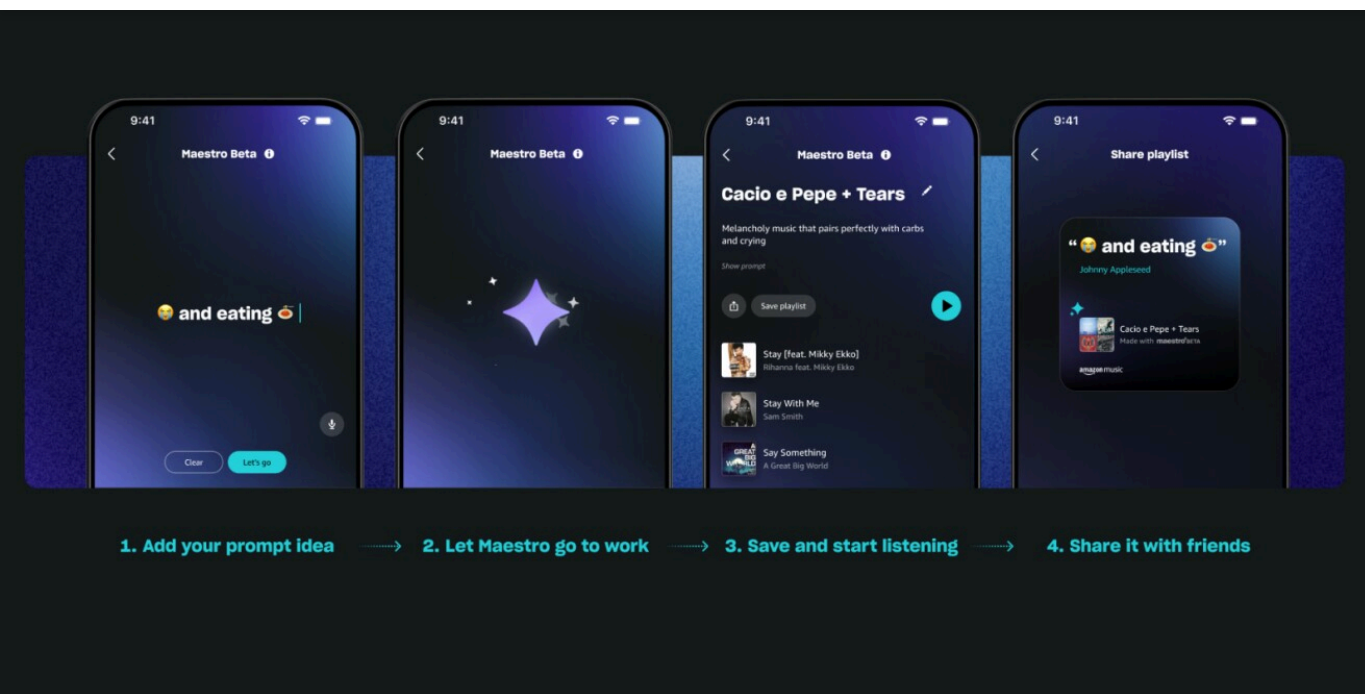

As you play around, just remember that the technology behind Maestro is new and won't always get it right the first time. We've also implemented systems to proactively block offensive language and inappropriate prompts. We'll be applying your feedback, and continuing to make Maestro the best and safest experience for everyone.

Maestro is rolling out in beta to a subset of Free, Prime, and Unlimited Amazon Music customers in the U.S. on iOS and Android mobile apps. Amazon Music Unlimited subscribers can listen to their playlists instantly and save for later, while Prime members and ad-supported customers can listen to 30-second previews of their playlists before saving. We plan to expand access to more customers over time.

Sign up for the weekly Amazon newsletter

Enter email

1. Download the latest version of the Amazon Music mobile app
2. Customers who are in the beta will see Maestro either on their home screen, or when they tap the plus sign where they usually create a new playlist
3. Talk or type your playlist idea
4. Tap "Let's go!" to stream your playlist
5. Save and share with friends

What will you create?

Learn more about AI innovation at Amazon.

Trending news and stories

- 3 ways Amazon is making Fire TV more accessible for customers with disabilities
- Watch how Amazon delivers to some of the most remote locations in Mexico
- Introducing Amazon's all-new device packaging
- How to write your resume using generative AI from Amazon

RELATED TAGS

Amazon Music Artificial Intelligence Conversational AI

Share

More Amazon News

ENTERTAINMENT

ENTERTAI

How to watch 'ChiefsAholic: A Wolf in Chiefs Clothing,' Prime Video's true-crime sports documentary

See the

Read more

December 24, 2024

Read mor

Amazon News

Press Center

Amazon.com

Investor Resources

Careers

Site Map

More from Amazon