

Spryker on AWS

In less than a decade, Spryker has gone from tech startup to 600-strong company with offices across the world. At the cutting edge of enterprise commerce software, it uses AWS to provide its 150-plus business customers with composable solutions that help them maximize customer interactions and drive revenue. With flexibility to scale and innovate in the cloud, Spryker can focus on developing new services and bringing more enterprise customers onboard. It gives clients the reassurance of meeting data regulations—from Europe to the US to China—using AWS services and resources to protect data and privacy.
