NTT DOCOMO Builds a New Data Analysis Platform on AWS, Growing Its Users 13X and Invigorating Organization Data Use

NTT DOCOMO's data platform—the Data Analysis Lab—is central to the organization's use of data in understanding its customers and its business. The company moved the platform to the cloud migration in just 7 months, and has seen a 13-times increase in the number of user accounts, analysis environment builds, and a 2.4-times uplift in data catalog users.

Moving to the cloud to evolve our data use, changing our IT staff's mindset, and increasing our cost awareness will generate more satisfaction for analytics environment users and increase customer value."
