Stratio Leads Innovation in Generative AI, Accelerates Customer Insight Using AWS

Companies need accurate insight to make decisions that drive business success, and Stratio specializes in helping them do this by harnessing all of their data through generative artificial intelligence (AI). Using Amazon Web Services (AWS), its innovative approach allows customers to keep sensitive data secure within a trusted environment while applying the power of generative AI to drive action and automation. It can scale to 10,000 cores, says Ignacio Mulas, chief strategy officer and vice president of engineering, delivering more value to more clients through a pay-per-use model.
